Good News For QuantoGram

I have been a little quiet recently with QuantoGram but things are happening. One of the world's leading suppliers of equipment to lower toxic emissions from all sorts of vehicles is impressed enough with the QuantoGram PCD that they are financing a leading UK University to provide conclusive evidence that will be accepted around the world. I look forward to getting permission to disclose the results but that decision does not rest with me.

HoloGuard, SafeHouse and QuantoGram PCD – How Do they Work and How Can I Prove it?

Studies on the damage WIFI does to the cells are many and varied – you can find them using Google. To get human studies conducted on my devices would cost an actual fortune. I am convinced I have enough evidence to use my devices for protection based upon the below information and the attached presentation. As far as vehicles are concerned, I have demonstrated many times on vehicles that if you drive two identical journeys on the same day with the PCD in the vehicle, for the second journey there will be a considerable saving.

My Best Explanation

If you want to understand more on Quantum theory, you need to see 'Ted Talks Quantum' videos at YouTube to understand more.

An article just recently in 'Scientific American Online Journal' reported on newer experiments to repeat previous experiments that show how even our brains can influence these quantum particles.

All of my Quantogram devices are designed to influence quantum particles, and in the case of WIFI, the HoloGuard and SafeHouse make the quantum particles in our body immune (or neutralise) the harmful effects from any harmful frequencies.

How Can We Demonstrate The Effect of QuantoGram Products?

Other than using a Thermal Imaging Camera to demonstrate the protection from harmful effects (see this PowerPoint), we also have the QuantoGram Strength Test. This test works for my QuantoGram devices and in fact any existing device claiming to protect you from WIFI but you have to follow the test in careful detail. For example, the feet should be tight together and the hand being pushed down must not leave the side of the leg, etc.

The QuantoGram PCD is even easier. As well as the QuantoGram Strength Test, the PCD instructions show a simple test (before you introduce the vehicle to the PCD) of driving a set distance, measuring the fuel used and then inserting the PCD under the back seat (or on top of the fuel tank) whichever is closest and then repeating the same drive again, measuring the fuel used. Done correctly, this always shows at least a 17% saving. By improving the combustion of the fuel this is also saving on emissions.

QuantoGram Strength Test

If you use these tests with the phone NOT in the hand and then with the phone IN the hand of the person being tested, they will become much stronger with the phone IN the hand if the phone is protecting the person.

It is better if you have the person testing you to be bigger and stronger than you. If you are testing someone else, choose a weaker person than you so you can feel their increase in strength.

If you see the faces of the people I am demonstrating QuantoGram on you will see the amazement when they suddenly feel many times much stronger and can easily resist the pushing down movement.

Remember

I stake my reputation that these things work and I will do everything I claim to protect the health of your family.

QuantoGram PCD

Reduces fuel consumption in any vehicle along with exhaust emissions.

HoloGuard WIFI Guard

Attaches to any phone, router, computer or even a card in your pocket. Neutralises damage from WIFI and Electro-magnetic Frequencies

SafeHouse

Does the same as the HoloGuard but is plugged into any electrical socket to protect everyone in the House, Office or Hotel Room
